

Melissa Wolfgang

Melissa Wolfgang Amenc is a 6th generation precious stone and jewellery dealer. She earned her Graduate Gemologist degree from the Gemological Institute of America in Santa Monica, California. With her diploma in hand, Melissa moved to Geneva, Switzerland, briefly working with her father and then joining the jewellery department at Christie's where she was an intern, followed by working between the jewellery department and the office of the President. After two years she moved on to work for de Grisogono as a gemstone buyer for their jewellery and watch collections.

In 2001 Melissa joined her family business, Golay Fils & Stahl where she buys and sells precious gemstones, diamonds and vintage jewellery catering to private clients and the trade.

Passionate about the industry, Melissa is an active member of various associations including the foundation board of the Swiss Gemmological Institute (SSEF), the ethics committee and the executive board of the Association Suisse de Négociants en Pierres Précieuses (Swiss Precious Stone Dealers Association - ASNP-VSE) as well as the Swiss delegation to CIBJO.
